Falling 20 feet from the roof of a house he was painting at 141 Beechwood Avenue, Charles Flick, 62, was fatally injured at 12:20 this afternoon.

Constables R. Maitland and G. Buckle, answering a call, found the man on the ground at the foot of a ladder. Dr. W. A. Tremholme attended and pronounced Flick, who lived at 147 Ontario Street, dead.

The body was removed by police to the Thomson funeral parlor after Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, had been notified.

Police are endeavoring to get in touch with relatives.

Reconversion unemployment will reach its peak during the next three months, he forecast.

2 Superforts Lost In Yokohama Raid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Superfortresses were lost in the latest fire attack on Yokohama, Tokyo's port city, the 20th Air Force reported today.

The big force of B-29s, more than 450, encountered little enemy fighter opposition, but anti-aircraft fire over the city ranged from "meagre to intense." Returning crews, the 20th Air Force said, reported "excellent" results from the visual bombing period.

Gonzales Bay Draws Scores Seeking Early Summer Tan

A summertime magnet at all times, Gonzales Bay, close to the streetcar line, has proved more popular than ever since gasoline rationing halted trips to distant beaches. Besides sunbathing on the big expanse of sand, there is safe swimming and bathing from the shelving beach, logs for youngsters to build rafts and good boating and fishing for those familiar with the currents outside the shelter of the crescent.

Showdown In Syria May Cost France Part of Her Middle Eastern Empire

By ROMNEY WHEELER

LONDON (AP)—The tiny Middle Eastern French mandates of Syria and Lebanon, backed by the Arab League, appeared today to be forcing a showdown which may cost France part of her empire.

France Has Choice Of Two Courses

Diplomatic observers in London expressed the view that France had only two possible courses—either she must stand by her demands and put down opposition by force if necessary or she must withdraw and accept inevitable loss of prestige as an imperial power.

Both in London and Washington diplomats were seeking an amicable solution and striving to avoid violence which might further disturb the delicate balance in the Middle East.

Fighting already has broken out in Syria between French forces and natives protesting their presence. An Associated Press dispatch from Damascus said Syria's acting Premier Jamil Mardam Bey had expressed fears that a "general clash" might be near as fighting spread to Homs, 120 miles north of the capital, after the French had moved reinforcements from there to quell an outbreak at Hama, 30 miles farther north.

The French were reported to have had the main street of Homs under continual crossfire Monday, shooting at anybody venturing on the street, while French artillery shells had knocked out one wall of the Sarail (government building). Syrians ambushed and captured three French armored cars, killing six men and wounding three others.

Damascus placed the casualties at Hama at more than 200, including a considerable expected proportion of dead. French gendarmes were reported in control of the railroad station, with Syrian Bedouins moving in on the town from the desert to the east.

Natives Outnumber French Troops

French and Senegalese garrisons in Homs and Hama were believed to number possibly fewer than 200 men in each town, not including larger numbers of Syrian levies who were considered dependable. In Damascus, also, where both sides were organizing defenses, the French are greatly outnumbered.

Gas Applications Go to Vancouver

After Thursday Victoria motorists seeking gasoline ration coupon books will have to apply directly to the regional office of the oil controller instead of going to the superintendent of motor vehicles here.

As in other years the motor vehicle department, formerly part of the B.C. Police, took over issuing the bulk of the gasoline ration books at the end of the ration year, March 31. It has become a

Withdrawal of Japs From Former U.S. Airfield Reported

CHUNGKING (AP)—Unconfirmed reports said today the Japanese were withdrawing from the former U.S. air base at Liuchow in Kwangsi province as Chinese troops aimed a two-pronged attack at the railroad junction city.

Veteran Chinese troops, who captured the big inland port of Nanning (Yungking) last Saturday in their most spectacular victory in months, pushed to the outskirts of Pinyang, 58 miles to the northeast and about 90 miles southwest of Liuchow.

Liuchow also was threatened from the west. Chinese forces advanced from captured Hwaiyuan, crossed a north-south stretch of the Yung River seven miles west of Isan and drove on toward that Japanese stronghold, 43 miles west of Liuchow.

Big 3 Meet Certain Churchill Reveals

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill made it clear in the Commons today that a Big Three meeting was in the cards. Asked whether he contemplated a meeting with President Truman and Marshal Stalin, Mr. Churchill replied: "Yes, yes."

Last week, during an election tour, Mr. Churchill hinted he might have to attend such a conference before the election, expected to be held July 5.

U.S. Rejects Jap Protest On Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. has rejected a Japanese protest on the reported sinking of the relief ship Awa Maru April 1. Accompanying the rejection, the State Department reported today, was a warning to Japan against carrying out threats of retaliatory action against U.S. prisoners of war.

Tokyo said the Awa Maru was sunk while en route back to Japan after carrying relief supplies to imprisoned Americans in southern Asia. The State Department said that it had been informed by the navy that the vessel sunk April 1 was 40 miles off the Awa Maru's agreed course and showed no lights.

Soviet Calls Up Boys

MOSCOW (AP)—All Soviet youths of the eighth and ninth grades—between 15 and 16 years old—have been called for army training scheduled to begin June 1, it was announced today.

In announcing the call-up, which he said would be 100 per cent, Lt.-Gen. N. N. Pronin, chief of Administration of General Training of the Peoples' Commissariat for Defence, declared "the general military training in the present period would be conducted on an even higher level than in the days of war."

The new program is the largest training schedule ever ordered for peacetime in Russia.

Yokohama Burns After Big Raid By Superforts

By HAMILTON W. FARON

GUAM (AP)—Superfort crews returning today from their heaviest daylight raid on Japan reported they had lighted giant fires in the industrial section of Yokohama in the first blow against Tokyo's port city.

More than 450 B-29s loosed 3,200 tons of bombs in their third strike in six days within a 20-mile radius of the Imperial Palace.

Airmen reported smoke billowed for four miles above the city and predicted destruction would rank with that of previous highly effective fire raids against other major Japanese industrial cities. Even the enemy's high command conceded "considerable damage" was inflicted.

Clouds of black smoke, such as comes from burning oil, was reported pouring up from Yokohama's highly inflammable commercial core in the southern end of the city, fifth largest in Nippon.

A strong wind appeared to be spreading the fires through automotive, aircraft, shipbuilding and rubber plants.

Big Planes Fly Through AA Fire

The great squadrons of Superforts flew through intense and accurate anti-aircraft fire to strike their targets, which included most of the city. An enemy communique said some of the raiders swept on northward to hit Tokyo and the industrial town of Kawasaki, which lies between the capital and the port city.

The Japanese communique claimed 30 planes were shot out of the attacking force, which it placed at "some 500" B-29s and "some 100" Mustang fighters from Iwo Jima. It asserted 40 others were damaged.

Russia Backing Canada's Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (Reuters)—Canada's delegates have won Russian support for their proposal to the United Nations' World Security conference that any power whose military forces will be called upon to take part in enforcement of a Security Council decision have a right to join in the council's discussion of that decision, it is reliably stated.

The Canadian delegation made the proposal on the ground that Canada and similar countries which might be ordered to provide land, sea and air detachments for collective action against an aggressor would have to obtain the sanction of their legislative bodies for such a move, and should, therefore, be permitted to take part in the preliminary discussions.

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP)—Scar-faced William Joyce, better known as Lord Haw Haw, Goebbels' anti-British mouthpiece, was shot in the thigh and captured at the Danish border near Flensburg Monday and his condition today was reported critical.

A British soldier fired when Joyce made a threatening move with his hand in his pocket.

Joyce is being transferred to Luenburg by ambulance, a senior intelligence officer with the British 2nd Army said.

Joyce's wife also was captured. An authoritative source said there was a strong possibility he would have to stand trial for treason in the country he tried vainly to undermine.

Lord Haw Haw is William Joyce, 39, born in New York of Irish parents. An early British Fascist, his face was slashed with a razor 20 years ago during a fight with British Communists.

Tool of Goebbels' Propagandists

Joyce was a tool of the Goebbels' Propaganda Ministry. His polished voice and precise English accent were gained at University of London, where he was graduated with honors in 1927.

Throughout the war, he wheedled British and North American radio audiences with accounts of German air blows at London and other British cities, and over every achievement of German arms. Even while he was boasting of the blitz, German bombers destroyed the London home of Lord Haw Haw's father, Michael Joyce, who died in February, 1941.

Haw Haw, far from undermining British morale, however, steered British listeners and provided them with one of their few grim entertainments during the dark days of the war.

At one time his sarcasm and "views on the news," frequently dealing with British internal problems, were broadcast over a wide German network.

Troops of Lt.-Gen. Dempsey's 2nd Army captured the short, chunky broadcaster.

First In First Out R.C.A.F. Plan For 65,000 Men To Be Released

OTTAWA (CP)—Air Minister Gibson today announced a reallocation and demobilization plan—similar in many respects to that already announced by the army—by which the junior service strength will be scaled from about 165,000 to 100,000.

The 100,000 figure will provide units for the Pacific units for the occupation of Europe and personnel for the necessary training and administrative organization in Canada.

The demobilization program, like that of the navy and army, is based on the general "first in, first out" principle and has been in effect for some time. Last September the strength of the force was 204,000 compared with the estimated present strength of 165,000.

NO MORE CUTS FORESEEN
Mr. Gibson said: "No further large scale demobilization is contemplated."

Past and present home establishments, strengths are not known, but with the end of the big Commonwealth Air Training Plan March 31, they were reduced by many thousands.

The air force demobilization and reallocation program was given only in general terms as the "exact number and character of R.C.A.F. squadrons to be sent to the Pacific have not been finally determined."

It has been speculated, however, that the scarcity of bases in the Far East is the vital point in concentrating Allied forces in that theatre.

It was learned that if the Russians enter the war against Japan, Allied bomber bases might be provided at strategic Siberian points. The R.C.A.F. had been reported as ready to send between 15 and 20 squadrons of fighters and bombers under command of Air Vice-Marshal C. M. (Black Mike) McEwen, 42, of Calgary. However, the problem of furnishing bases must be solved first.

Mr. Gibson said "the Canadian identity of squadrons in the Pacific will be carefully preserved and the men will serve under

New Government Of Britain Meets House of Commons

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain returned to party government in earnest today, as the House of Commons met for the first time since the Labor and Liberal parties withdrew from Prime Minister Churchill's coalition government.

The Opposition front benches were crowded with men such as Clement Attlee, Ernest Bevin and Herbert Morrison, who last time the House met would have found their seats on the treasury bench, where members of the government have their places.

When Prime Minister Churchill entered the House, the usual all-party cheer was replaced by a tremendous cheer from his present supporters—mainly Conservatives.

Many Conservatives waved their order papers in the air. One Labor member, whose party hopes to unseat Mr. Churchill as Prime Minister in the election, interjected: "Are you waving him goodbye?"

To a question about transfer of Royal Navy vessels to the Russian fleet, Mr. Churchill said he would make a lengthy statement next week. Rhys Davies, Labor, reminded Mr. Churchill he once had said he did not propose to preside over liquidation of the British Empire, to which the Prime Minister rejoined:

"This particular episode was part of a process by which the consolidation of the British Empire was achieved."

Chinese Chided For Scoring Yanks

CHUNGKING (AP)—Gen. Ho Yan-otsu, mayor of Chungking, in a statement today condemned the disrespect shown by crowds in Chungking to Chinese girls seen in company of Americans.

As an example of this disrespect, a U.S. Embassy official said that when he was escorting a Chinese girl home, a crowd followed them, shouting insults at his companion.

"Misunderstanding and rumors have developed into an anti-social gesture threatening to undermine Chinese-American friendship," Gen. Ho said. "It is a gross mistake to interpret every association of Chinese girls with Americans as something evil. If there should be a breach of the law, the law will decide, not the mob."

Orchestra Delightful In Its Final Concert

By Audrey St. D. Johnson

Bringing to a close their fourth and most successful season to date, the Victoria Symphony Orchestra delighted a large audience Monday night at the Royal Victoria Theatre, with a program which was both well balanced and varied in its appeal. Assisting was a 125-voice choir composed of members of the Arion and Schubert clubs, the First United Church choir and the Georgian Choristers.

The progress and development of the orchestra is freshly evident at each concert. Never for a moment has it ceased to go forward under the able leadership of Melvin Knudson, who is fully aware of the possibilities of the orchestra. He is also aware of its momentary limitations and for this reason, the selections are played superlatively well, with no sense of strain or loss of the truly musical ideal.

CONTEMPLATIVE MELODY
Opening with the Overture, "Hungary's Lullaby" (Erkel), the orchestra developed a colorful mood, marked at moments by the abrupt syncopation of the Hungarian rhythm, at others, by the violins singing a gentle, contemplative melody. The brief, gem-like "Symphony in D" by Gossec bearing the hallmark of the era in which it was written, the same era which produced Haydn and Philip Emanuel Bach, brought forth some neat and delicate phrasing and lovely flute passages.

The Moszkowski "Spanish Dance No. 4 in B flat" and the Sullivan selection for orchestra from H.M.S. Pinafore thrilled the audience, which can scarcely have heard them better played. One of the loveliest numbers was the majestic "Sigurd Jorsalfar Suite, Opus 56" by Edward Grieg, which included "In the Hall of the King" and the unrivaled "Triumphal March of Homage," which is considered to be perhaps Grieg's masterpiece. The beautiful sweeping melody which is tossed about from strings to brass and woodwinds, was played with exactly the right shade of simple dignity rising to heroic and broad climaxes.

STRIKING CONTRAST
Chorus and orchestra blended first in an intoxicating Strauss number, "Greeting to Spring," part of which had to be repeated, and at the end of the program, in striking contrast, in the exultant Hymn of Praise, "All Men, All Things" from Mendelssohn Symphony-cantata. All the beauty and richness of the evening seemed to culminate in this, instrumentalists and singers responding to the baton with broad, magnificently architected phrases and warm mellow tone. An ovation greeted this number, and in response Mr. Knudson led the ensemble in the chorale from the same work.

Brahms' haunting lament, "The Death of Tenebris" was sung by the Georgian Choristers, with Mrs. Georgina Watt conducting. These beautifully modulated ladies' voices had a purity of tone that was subtly complimented by the accompaniment of muted violins, a harp and two horns.

An additional encore given by the orchestra was the "Dance Arabesque" from the Tchaikovsky "Nutcracker Suite."

Bracken's Son Says He Was Ready To Volunteer, But Was Not Wanted

MONTREAL (CP)—George Murray Bracken, son of John Bracken, national Progressive Conservative leader, said Monday night that a statement by Maurice Lalonde, Liberal member of the last Parliament for La-belle, Que., and candidate in this election, which charged that he had attempted to evade the draft was "pretty much one-sided."

He said: "I had never tried to conceal my address, but sent the necessary card to registration authorities at Ottawa, each time I moved. Apparently, the mobilization registrar could not locate me, and my file was turned over to the R.C.M.P., who served the notice on me, along with those for 40 or 50 other men, at the Bouchard plant."

Mr. Lalonde had said that the case was given to the R.C.M.P. "in the face of his obvious refusal to obey the law." Mr. Lalonde also asked how Bracken had obtained a job, if he were not in good standing with Selective Service.

"Selective Service regulations came into force Sept. 1, 1942," Mr. Bracken said, "and I obtained employment at the Defence Industries Limited plant prior to that date, although I did not appear on the payroll until Sept. 5, 1942. I did not have to get my job through Selective Service."

INFORMED NOT WANTED
"I received my notice while at the plant," Mr. Bracken said. "I went to the Longueuil depot, and when I was classified B-1 I was asked whether I would volunteer for active service.

"I said I would, but was later told: 'We can't take you.'"

He said that at the time he was father of five children, and was exempt from service because of being employed in an essential industry as supervisor of a 20-millimetre shell line at the Bouchard plant.

"I never asked for postponement," he said. "The company did. That was routine procedure for anyone in the supervisor's branch."

He said that when the first notice arrived at Rosemere he had left there some time previously.

DENIAL BY FATHER
VANCOUVER (CP)—John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader, Monday night denied that his son, Murray, had sought to evade conscription during the second World War.

Commenting on a statement issued by Maurice Lalonde, Liberal candidate in the Quebec Constituency of LaBelle, Mr. Bracken said: "The statement as read to me by the Canadian Press to the effect that my son, Murray, had sought to evade conscription, is absurd and untrue. He has three brothers in the armed services as volunteers, and he himself is a young married man with six children."

"As a matter of fact, he desired to go, but only the pressure of family duties kept him from doing so."

CANDIDATE'S CHARGES
MONTREAL (CP)—Maurice Lalonde, Liberal member of the last Parliament for LaBelle riding, said at a political meeting here Monday night that "John Murray Bracken, the son of Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken, has sought right here in the province of Quebec to evade the very conscription his father is seeking so desperately to impose on our young men for the war against the Japs."

From the platform, Mr. Lalonde read a statement, in French, and then had printed copies distributed to newspapermen covering the meeting.

Before reading the statement, Mr. Lalonde, who is again Liberal candidate in LaBelle for the June 11 general election, said the Progressive Conservative leader had "insulted the province of Quebec."

"Mr. Bracken contends, in effect, that Quebec is not sending enough men to war," he said.

"Therefore I want to ask this Mr. Bracken a question—why is his son trying to evade conscription right here in our own province of Quebec?"

Mr. Bracken, he said, was dissatisfied, because young men in Quebec, needed on the farms and in other "essential work," had sought exemption from military service.

"And here we find his own son doing the same thing," Mr. Lalonde said.

Nearly all of the 2,200 civic workers will receive at least an additional $5 extra per month. Cost to the city this year will be $94,000, and when the full salary schedule is in operation the annual additional cost will be $230,000.

Crerar Urges All Members of Army Abroad to Vote In Elections

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY (CP)—In a message to all commanders and commanding officers of the 1st Canadian Army, Gen. Crerar, army commander, today urged his soldiers to vote in the forthcoming federal and Ontario elections. The Ontario election will be held June 4 and the Dominion voting June 11.

The message read:

"The war which now is partially won, in which Canadians played and will play such an important part, is being waged that all free peoples of the world should be able to determine their way of life through the exercise of the free and secret ballot.

"It would be a tragic waste of the lives of our fallen comrades if we did not recognize the duty imposed upon us as citizens of Canada carefully to consider the issue at stake and cast a ballot in accordance with the best dictates of our own reason.

"I am anxious that every Canadian officer and soldier should have full and unrestricted opportunity of casting a ballot in the forthcoming elections, which will determine the governments of Canada and Ontario for the immediate postwar years. Full arrangements will therefore be made by units or sub-units to enable every officer and soldier to cast a vote in accordance with his right, privilege and duty.

"All available material concerning the platforms of the various political parties and the issues involved should be made available to all ranks for consideration and study, but it is emphasized that there must be no electioneering of any kind."

Soldiers in northwest Europe began to cast their votes Monday in the federal election. Polling booths were opened in all units and will remain open until June 9. In each case a unit officer has been appointed as a polling officer and lists of candidates with their party affiliation are available in each polling booth.

Army voting for the Ontario election will take place between May 30 and June 4, both dates inclusive.

There was voting in every polling booth Monday. There was no great rush to the polls, however. Soldiers are being urged by the army newspaper, the Maple Leaf, to exercise the franchise, and before the voting ends June 9 the largest vote in Canadian army history is likely to be recorded. There is keen interest in political issues and the election here now than at any time since the troops came overseas.

Chain of Fast Ships To 'Bridge' Atlantic

LONDON (Reuter)—The Daily Mail said a chain of fast ships is to be "stationed" at intervals across the Atlantic as part of a vast plan to safeguard U.S. airmen and troops being flown from Britain to the United States. In the event of an air transport plane being forced down the wireless operator could make contact with the nearest ship and help would be speedily forthcoming.

Courts-Martial Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation further deferring courts-martial for any negligence of duty in the Japanese surprise attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, was approved Monday by the Senate judiciary committee.

The resolution postpones until six months after defeat of Japan the statute of limitations for any prosecutions. The statute would expire June 7.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

It is a tragic circumstance—with all the trappings of a cynical holiday—that, while the United Nations labor in San Francisco to create a world peace structure, a bloody clash at arms should be going on among countries represented at the conference.

The fighting in Syria between French troops and natives could develop into an upheaval involving many countries if it were allowed to run its course. Great Britain and the United States are using their best offices to try to halt it.

What's happened in Syria is this: When Syria and its little neighbor, Lebanon, were taken from Turkey at the head of the last war, they were placed under French mandate. However, the peoples of both these Middle Eastern countries have through the centuries been fiercely independent and they continued to press for their liberty until France finally promised it.

The Second Great War intervened, but June 1, 1944, finally was set as the date when Syria and Lebanon should receive full sovereignty. Britain guaranteed their independence. However, France continued to maintain troops there and has been negotiating for special privileges.

Recently France moved in more troops, saying that was for the purpose of establishing bases for the movement of forces to the Pacific for the war against Japan.

Then the trouble started, for the Lebanese and Syrians charged their liberty was being hampered. They demanded the withdrawal of all French troops. The French didn't comply and fighting has broken out in Syria.

Judge Named to Probe Charges, Drew Calls Jolliffe 'a Liar'

TORONTO (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel of the Ontario High Court, will act as a royal commissioner to investigate the charge by C.C.F. leader E. B. Jolliffe that Premier Drew's Ontario government is maintaining a secret political police.

The appointment of the 48-year-old native of Sarnia, who is a Liberal and a Roman Catholic, was announced by Premier Drew Monday night in a provincial election broadcast from Pembroke. Mr. Drew said Mr. Justice LeBel would conduct a judicial inquiry into all questions arising from Mr. Jolliffe's charges as soon as he completes his present sitting as assize court judge at Windsor.

Premier Drew again denied the Jolliffe charges, which, he said, were made to undermine public confidence in the government, and to draw attention away from the real issues of the campaign. He said: "Mr. Jolliffe pigmy states that I have described him as a teller of lies, but that he will not use this word. Let me remind you that I did not describe him as a teller of lies. I called him a liar, and will again describe him as a contemptible and unprincipled liar."

Mr. Jolliffe meanwhile was addressing a meeting at Collingwood. He promised that in a broadcast next Wednesday night he would announce "names of witnesses and documents" to substantiate his charges of the existence of secret political police in Ontario. He has named Capt. W. J. Osborne-Dempster as head of the "secret police."

The C.C.F. leader Sunday night gave the names of three Ontario citizens among those he alleged were "listed on the Gestapo files." These were: B. K. Sandwell, editor of Toronto Saturday Night; Rev. Peter Bryce, D.D.; former Moderator of the United Church, and Provost F. H. Cosgrave of Trinity College, University of Toronto.

Liberal Leader Mitchell Hepburn coincidentally sent telegrams from Sault Ste. Marie to both Premier Drew and Mr. Jolliffe offering to suspend his speaking engagements in the last days of the campaign "if an immediate investigation" was held into the Jolliffe charges. (glt-hrd mfw)

Hunger In Europe Recognized At Conference As Big Problem

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Hunger in war-torn Europe is haunting the United Nations Security Conference and has posed an alarming problem for the architects of peace.

Hunger itself is seldom mentioned officially, but delegates say the future of the new league depends on how hunger is relieved in liberated countries. They argue that the future permanent peace of Europe hinges on the restoration of a reasonable standard of living and employment.

"No government in liberated Europe can survive," explained a Belgian diplomat, "if the people are allowed to go hungry. Only governments which relieve that hunger can live."

A survey of government officials from Belgium, Holland, France, Greece, Yugoslavia, Luxembourg, Norway and Czechoslovakia disclosed the extent of their alarm over the food situation.

In most of these countries there is starvation. The prospects of immediate relief are gloomy.

The consensus among European delegates is that five to 10 years will be needed to put Europe back on its feet. Some delegates are more pessimistic.

In the 13th century The Hague was merely a hunting estate for the counts of Holland.

Winnipeg Horses Prevail at Calgary

CALGARY (CP)—Winnipeg owners and trainers dominated Monday's fourth-day program at Victoria Park's spring race meet when they chalked up four triumphs including the easy gallop of hotly favored Gwyndryd in the featured president's handicap over a distance of six and one-half furlongs.

Gwyndryd, given a capable ride by jockey W. Hawksworth, who also booted home long shot Casa Lena in the third to lead the riding colony with two victories, won as she pleased for Winnipeg's K. and K. stable and trainer F. Roberts, Parslow and Denoon's Broad Camp finishing second far back and Marbanne third several more lengths in arrears.

THE PLAIN TRUTH

SECRETARY OF STATE STETTINIUS, who spoke from San Francisco last night, said the United States realize that "we live in a world where the sovereignty" of even the most powerful nations is not absolute, and "there is no such thing as complete freedom of decision for any nation."

Inherent in that simple statement is a great truth—a truth which impressed President Wilson and other distinguished Americans of his time, but which others in the neighboring republic chose to ignore. Some learned nothing from the Harding-Coolidge-Hoover fiscal spree. Successive administrations at Washington fathered tariff legislation which raised duties on imports to the highest level in the nation's history. Retaliation followed in the form of discrimination against United States products by more than a score of other countries. International fiscal juggling during the interregnum between 1920 and 1933 contributed to the general debacle. Our American friends found out with a vengeance that they were not exempt from its effects—that their country was an integral part of the world.

A little more than a year ago, just before he went to Wisconsin to take that state's political temperature, Mr. Wendell Willkie endeavored to prove to the American people the truth of the words Mr. Stettinius was destined to utter last night. Said the great liberal who died last October:

"To the extent that the term sovereignty is taken to mean that we have the right to do exactly as we please in dealings with other nations, and that we choose to do it, is not property of concern to any other nation, is out of date. During roughly 125 years of our national existence we assumed that this conception of sovereignty was valid. We even got into the habit of believing that it was an essential part of national freedom. . . . To try to defend it against the facts of modern life would be unrealistic and dangerous. Nor would we thereby be preserving freedom."

How did the late Mr. Willkie's Republican friends treat him and his concept of his country's foreign policy at the Chicago convention? They virtually ignored both. In the meantime, however, the whole world has seen what has happened to two European dictators who thought they had a right and duty to enforce their will throughout the universe. They dressed up their claim in the fanciest and most offensive theories of blood, race and mythology. Their fate remains a fitting monument to the simple truth that the absolute sovereignty of any nation in international relationships is as impractical in operation as the idea of absoluteness of any nation.

Mr. Stettinius has done well to underscore the force of these important facts as the epochal Conference at San Francisco nears its end.

INSULTING THE PEOPLE

ONE PARAGRAPH IN A LARGE advertisement with which the Progressive Conservative Party is bidding for votes at the polls on June 11 is no compliment to the intelligence of the Canadian people, especially the workers of the Dominion, whose prodigious industrial and other production in the last five years has amazed the world and contributed so magnificently toward the defeat of the European tyrant. We refer to this:

"King or Chaos" of the 1940 election campaign has been King AND Chaos ever since. National unity, to which the King government has paid only lip-service, was sold for political advantage in time of greatest national emergency.

Reduced to its lowest denominator, the latter part of the first sentence in that paragraph is intended to convince the Canadian people that they, in their foolishness, bought five years of chaos when they endorsed Mr. King and his government by a majority greater than given to any political party in Canada since Confederation. Apart from the utter stupidity of such an implication, it is worth considering what Mr. Gordon Graydon, House leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in the last Parliament, said on Feb. 5, 1940: Here it is:

"As Peel candidate of the National Government Party, I will not support conscription if I am a member of a National Government. In the last war conscription raised only 10,000 men for overseas, and created a national disunity which I hope will never again appear in Canada."

The foregoing appeared in the Toronto Telegram (Conservative). At Kerrisdale, B.C., March 22, 1940, four days before the election, Mr. Howard Green, one of Vancouver's staunchest Conservative members in the last Parliament, declared he was opposed to conscription,

"... not only because it was a failure in Canada in the last war, only 10,000 conscripts going to France, but because it might cause civil war."

Note how these two conformed to the party line at that time. In other words, if there has been chaos in Canada "ever since" the people issued their instructions to Mr. Mackenzie King on March 26, 1940, two of the most influential of Mr. Bracken's lieutenants in the present campaign must accept some of the responsibility for helping to bring it about. For they were very definite in their views of what should or should not be done with the nation's manpower—regardless of whether they were right or wrong in their assessment of the situation they feared would be created if conscription were adopted. The only chaos Canada has experienced "ever since" her people elected to retain the King government in office, instead of replacing it with a "government of the best brains of the country," has been in the minds of adherents of a party which has had only one term of office in almost a quarter of a century. What most Conservatives do not seem able to get into their heads is that five years of Bennettism produced a type of chaos in Canada that no intelligent Canadian is likely soon to forget.

Of course the Tory propagandists are careful to refrain from itemizing this condition of "chaos"—or give the periods when it is supposed to have fastened itself on the country "ever since" the electorate expressed its will in 1940. Would they suggest, for instance, the development of the British Empire Air Training Plan was a contributing factor to the "chaos" of which they speak? Did the Ogdensburg Agreement—Aug. 17, 1940—between Mr. King and Mr. Roosevelt—which resulted in the establishment of a Permanent Joint Defence Board for Canada and the United States—produce "chaos"? Did the Hyde Park Agreement negotiated by Mr. King with Mr. Roosevelt—which resulted in the establishment of joint Canadian-American economic committees to coordinate the production of the combined war resources of this country and the United States for continental defence—produce "chaos"?

Let our Progressive Conservative friends consult the record and make up their minds just when they discovered "chaos" in Canada. They did not find it until they themselves fomented it in the late fall of last year. For the most part, until then, they knew what Mr. Graydon and Mr. Green knew five years ago. So much for their "chaos."

FAMINE IN GERMANY

FAMINE SIMILAR TO THAT WHICH she brought to occupied territories faces Germany by the end of next month, according to the official 14th Army news release yesterday. It is nature's grim retribution being exacted against a country which fought stupidly against a defeat which was inevitable and, continuing to fight, ignored the natural laws of agriculture for which the penalties are automatic.

In the dying weeks of the war in Europe the Nazis were warned of the starvation they were assuring Germany. They were told that each day away from the field, each day in which they failed to sow, would leave them that much less to harvest. They were told that any calls they would make for food would sound but faintly in the louder claims of friendly nations for nutrition. They were reminded of their brutal removal of livestock and sustenance from other countries when a large section of Europe was the larger from which they stole their food. Now the horror of famine is closing on them.

They will be fed, fed by those who conquered them, provided arrangements can be made to ship in the required foodstuffs. But they will be at the foot of Europe's breadline, taking what is left after the more deserving have received the meagre rations which the emergency will permit them. And the standard of feeding for the Germans is scarcely likely to maintain a national waistline equal to that which made Goering something of a physical phenomenon.

ANOTHER STEP

THE UNITED STATES 6TH MARINE Division, which has occupied two-thirds of Naha, battered capital of Okinawa, is now in a position to cross the inlet harbor and begin the assault on the town's airfield, reportedly the finest in the Ryukyus, according to today's dispatches from the Pacific theatre. The announcement is made in the same story that recounts today's new heavy bombing of shipyards and installations at Yokohama. The two items hang together.

Step by step the United States forces have taken over island bases, bringing their air striking power closer to Japan's vitals. And each step has been marked by the intensification of their aerial assaults. There will doubtless be bitter fighting ahead of the marines before they can gain control of Naha's multiple-strip drome. But capture it they will, and when it is in their possession the Nipponese will be further bludgeoned into the knowledge their cause is hopeless.

The importance of the acquisition of landing fields is being borne home more and more to the enemy as lines of supply are being cut and war production centres are being flattened. The capture of the Naha runways will lend emphasis to that point.

OLD WIVES TALES?

IN THE LIGHT OF MODERN MEDICAL advances, it is interesting to note the number of people who still wear copper bracelets to cure rheumatism. In the majority of cases the wearers are a little ashamed of their ornaments. They are quite ready to admit it seems a trifle foolish. But—and they seem as surprised as anyone—while they wear them, they are not subject to the more excruciating twinges of their particular pains.

Similarly, there are a lot of men who carry a wizened old potato in their pockets for the same purpose. Some advocate wearing a thin plate of zinc in their shoes to beat the "rheumatics." Another old remedy still popular is the judicious use of garlic, neutralized for the sake of neighbors and acquaintances by chewing parsley.

Are they faith cures based on old wives tales? Perhaps, admit the followers of the different practices. But, they add, they are a whole lot better than the pains experienced before the primitive remedies were used.

Prejudice is what makes you despise a man who is blameless except that he disagrees with you in one particular,

VERY HIGH STAKES

ALTHOUGH the tariff is an old subject in our public life, Congress has never before had to consider the issue which is now before it in the Doughton Trade Agreements Bill, and in the closely related Bretton Woods proposals. For we are entitled to say that by its votes on these two measures Congress will decide the basic principle of our foreign economic policy. It will decide whether the United States is to use its economic power to re-establish a system of private international trading, or whether, while we do nothing about it, Great Britain is to be allowed and also forced to lead the chief commercial nations and their colonial dependencies into a system of government-managed trade.

It is difficult to think that the Republicans will oppose these measures once they have realized what is at stake. Believing as they do in free private enterprise, the Republicans in Congress ought, if their self-interest is enlightened, to be the most ardent supporters of the program.

Never before has such an issue as this one been presented to Congress and the country. Throughout our history, or in any event more than a century, private international trading was the unchallenged order of things. Great Britain was the promoter, guardian, and regulator, and London was the central market and the financial capital of a world-wide system of free enterprise.

DURING THIS LONG period the United States exercised no decisive influence because it was not an important exporter of capital or of manufactured goods: whether we lowered our tariffs or raised them was not only a domestic but indeed even a local question. Throughout the 19th century, and until the first World War, what Britain believed and what Britain did was of far greater consequence everywhere than what we did. And as Britain had reached the peak of her power and of her prosperity as the exponent of private enterprise, that system prevailed.

In war Britain has suspended this system and alone she is no longer rich enough or industrially strong enough to restore it. She is deeply in debt; the industries which were once the source of her economic strength are technologically backward, and her newer industries, though promising, are not yet strong enough to be sure of their markets in open competition. As a result, the people of Britain have lost much of their faith in free enterprise, and whether they will return to it is at this moment, as they prepare for the elections, a sharply debated question. The Conservatives tend to look to protection and Empire preference, to bilateral currency and trade agreements, and to international cartels; the Labor Party looks to Socialism at home and to the government management of exports and imports.

IF GREAT BRITAIN goes this way, she can and she will carry much of the world with her. The European continent, west of the Soviet Union, is not only badly damaged by the war but its industrial equipment is in large part worn out or obsolete. It will have to recover economic strength before it will be in any mood to face the rigors of free competition with the productive power of American industry. Yet Europe, including Britain, exercises financial and political control over the main dependent areas of the world in Africa and in Asia. Moreover, Europe is the chief market for the temperate countries of South America, notably Argentina, and they would have to adopt their commercial policy to that of their customers.

SO WHEN WE SAY that Britain is economically too weak to restore a private enterprise system, we must not imagine that Britain is helpless. Far from it. The debts which she owes to the sterling area are powerful bargaining assets if she decides to go in for government trading. So also are her needs to import large quantities of food and raw materials. If we do not intervene strongly, as we are able to do because of our immense industrial and financial surpluses, Britain and the European continent and the dependent areas will by necessity, and under the influence of collectivism, organize for themselves a new system of international commerce—separate, distinct from, and conflicting with our own—based on monopoly, barter, restriction, and dominated by government management.

If Congress were to reject the Bretton Woods plan and the trade agreements bill, it would be a declaration to Great Britain and to all the other commercial nations that we were not going to try to recreate a system of free enterprise except in a part of this hemisphere. That is not what Congress wants: certainly that is not what the American Bankers' Association and the Republican Party can possibly want. Yet without the international bargaining power which Bretton Woods and the trade agreements measure give us, we have no means of opposing the movement toward government trading.

ONLY BY PASSING these measures promptly, decisively, and with conviction, can we hope to begin to turn the tide which everywhere abroad is running toward collectivism in international trading. No one who appreciates how strong is that tide will think that even with these measures we can easily or quickly arrest it. It will take a lot of determination, backed by great popular support: it will take many other measures, and long intricate negotiations, to reverse the trend and convince our Allies that an economy of free enterprise is still desirable for all and that it is still feasible for them.

Scolding can't change the U.S. Supreme Court. Its real trouble is lack of Holmes, Brandeis and Cordozo,

Letters To The Editor

LABOR AND GOVERNMENT

The election campaign for leadership, between rival candidates in Canada today, gives organized labor every legal right for seeking a place in government administration.

The main issue of all political parties is what labor has been asking for so long—"jobs and security." Labor does not object to any party stealing this issue as a headline. Parties using it as a vote catcher are doomed to disappointment. Labor has every reason to doubt the sincerity of Sir Henry Drayton when he says his party is aiming at what labor has wanted for the past years. The recent labor lobby proved his party formed the strongest block in opposition to its needs.

Despite opposition, today a new joint labor government committee is studying labor's proposals. This was obtained only through co-operative bodies, and the official capacity of our Minister of Labor, Hon. George S. Pearson.

No single party in peacetime can give Canadians full employment. The party elected on May 11 will be the postwar government, and will require the full co-operation of all parties, if this goal is to be reached—"co-operation is essential." It is to be regretted that the Conservative and C.C.F. parties do not realize this fact.

CHAMBERS' RECORD DISTINGUISHED

It has come to my ears recently that a rumor is being spread, presumably by the supporters of Maj.-Gen. Pearkes, V.C., that Lt.-Col. Alan Chambers was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for political patronage reasons, so that it was not rightly earned.

There is no excuse for such lies, as some months ago the announcement clearly stated that the award was given to him by the British Government for Meritorious, Distinguished Accomplishments on (Secret) Intelligence Missions—"so no citation could be given."

Most people know now what a dangerous service it is and that only men picked both for intelligence and courage are chosen to serve in it, and that they serve (often die) without the stimulation of knowing their achievements will be given publicly. ALICE COLCLOUGH, View Royal, May 23.

BELL FOUNDER DIES

The death is announced of the celebrated French bell founder, M. Louis Paccard of Annecy-le-Vieux, at the age of 69.

From the foundry which he directed with his brother have come such famous bells as the great "Savoyarde" of the Sacre-Coeur, Paris, which weighs 19 tons, without the tongue, and is 10 feet high, the Jeanne d'Arc bell at Rouen, and the peal of bells at the church of the Visitation, Annecy. M. Louis Paccard also made bells which are hung in churches in Canada and Serbia, visiting those countries to supervise their installation.

Eating Too Much? Exercising Too Little?

Most People Do and Pay the Penalty!

Many who feel "under the weather" are often guilty of overeating, especially rich, fatty foods. This often leads to a system overloaded with toxic waste, a dull, tired feeling and eventual overweight.

A favourite British method of keeping fit and trim despite rich, heavy food is to take Bile Beans nightly. These small, all-vegetable pills are so gentle they are called "The Medicine That Wakes Up Nature". Most people eat too heavily, exercise too little, so get BILE BEANS from your druggist and resolve to keep fit and youthful active.

His pamphlet, "Crime in Canada and the War," is a plain statement on an urgent Canadian problem.

The meeting is open to all organizations in the city.

Dorothy Dix

MARRIAGE DOESN'T BUY LOVE

Dear Dorothy Dix — I am a widower just past 50, and am engaged to a girl 12 years younger than I am. I take her to the best places for dinner, and to night clubs, and do everything to give her pleasure, but she never tells me that she loves me unless I ask her, and then she says very meekly that she does. She is never happy and gay when she is with me, but when she is with other men she is as spry and chipper as you please.

I love her very much, but I am afraid that she is only taking advantage of the good times I can give her, and is only waiting until her old boy friend comes back from the service. She still corresponds with him on the sly. What is your opinion? B.H.

Answer — My opinion, and what you know in your own heart to be the truth, is that the girl doesn't love you at all, and that she is only playing you for a good thing, and that if she marries you it will be for your money.

MISERY IN OFFING
All of which will mean misery to you. Give her up now while you can still save yourself, your self-respect, and from becoming that most forlorn and abject creature — the elderly husband who sits on the sidelines and watches his young wife dancing and flirting with boys of her own age, and knows that the only place he has in the picture is the man who pays the bills.

This girl is a particularly bad bet for you, because she isn't even a good actress. She doesn't pretend to be in love with you, or to be even interested in you. If she is gay when she is with other men and dumb when she is with you, it is because she is bored with you, and that would increase if she had you for a fire-side companion.

Marriage doesn't buy love, it doesn't buy congeniality, it doesn't buy happiness, so give the girl her freedom and let her go back to her boy and girl friends. Set your affections on some woman nearer your own age and who has sense enough to appreciate you and to love you for yourself alone.

W.A. Tea Thursday
Plans are complete for the tea to be held Thursday at the Y.W.C.A. by the W.A. to the Children's Aid Society. Owing to war conditions and increased population the work of both the W.A. and the society has soared, and trained workers find their hours heavily taxed. The auxiliary thus renders much aid and assists in the human touch which is not met by the allotted allowance. Wedding showers have been arranged by this group of workers giving these bride-elects the same love and attention their more fortunate sisters receive.

Housewives would do well to take note of extra preserves coupons which come due for the purchase of sugar for canning. Already 43 and 44 have become valid, and on May 17 preserves coupons 49-56 will be good for the purchase of four more pounds of sugar or preserves. Numbers for the final 10, due on July 19, will be announced at a later date.

Good News! Time for Nabob Tea!

When Canadian families celebrate good news from overseas, it's time to brew a pot of Nabob Tea — the happy family beverage that warms and cheers and makes the news more memorable. Nabob Tea is the choice of experienced housewives everywhere in Canada because for thirty years and more its fine quality, full flavor and satisfying strength have been their standby — for special occasions and for everyday use.

NABOB TEA

Which serves our country best?

FEAR OR REASON

based on slander based on fact

A great national movement is being attacked by the most unscrupulous campaign in Canada's history. Every possible lie, distortion and slander is being used by Big Business and its political parties against the thousands of Canadians who form the CCF.

The CCF has not the money to buy enough space to answer all the misstatements. Here are the answers to a few of the more glaring falsehoods:

FALSE TRUE

- "The CCF will take away the people's savings and life insurance." This is outright falsehood. The CCF says: THE MONEY WHICH THE PEOPLE HAVE EARNED, RIGHTFULLY BELONGS TO THEM whether it is in bonds, insurance or savings accounts. The CCF will guarantee the people's savings with all the resources of the nation.
- "The CCF will destroy the small businessman and individual enterprise." Another untruth. THE CCF HAS NO INTENTION OF TAKING OVER SMALL BUSINESS. Today, small business and individual enterprise suffer from three handicaps: (a) unfair competition from big combines; (b) difficulty of getting credit; (c) reduction in business through depressions. The CCF will remove these handicaps—will end monopoly control—provide credit at cost—and through jobs for all, will assure steady purchasing power.
- "The CCF will mean regimentation and dictatorship." On the contrary, Big Business itself regiments Canadians through unemployment, high prices, low wages and exploitation of the farmer. THE CCF WILL END THIS REGIMENTATION. It will enrich our democracy by adding freedom from want and freedom from fear to the precious right of the ballot box.
- "The CCF is National Socialist." This is the most shameful lie of all. The term "National Socialist" was invented by Hitler to cash in on the popularity of genuine socialism. Once in power he proceeded to exterminate all democrats and socialists, while Big Business all over the world dealt with him and helped him. THE CCF HAS ALWAYS FOUGHT EVERY FORM OF DICTATORSHIP AT HOME AND ABROAD. It is the most democratic political movement ever known in Canada, and is the nation's best safeguard against the real friends of Fascism.
- "The CCF will bring all the Japanese back to the Coast." A lie. The CCF will resettle Japanese Canadians in small groups in all the provinces. The CCF is the only party with a policy that will end the Liberal and Conservative policy of using these people to undercut wages and increase profits for Big Business.

D208—THE DREW GESTAPO

The sensational exposure that Premier Drew in Ontario has been using secret police PAID BY THE TAXPAYERS' MONEY—not for the safety of the people—but to spy on the C.C.F. and other citizens, is now known across Canada.

Canadians are shocked by this disclosure. This exposure, proven by facts and affidavits, discloses that the paid agents of Big Business have been working hand in glove with Drew's secret police. It shows how far Big Business is going in its campaign to stop the C.C.F. at any price.

The lies about the C.C.F. shown above in this advertisement are a part of the same campaign. The coast to coast advertisements, broadcasts and literature distribution by Public Information Association, General Relations Services Limited, and others are also part of the same slander and falsehood by Big Business at a cost of millions of dollars.

FELLOW-CANADIANS—for your own security in the difficult years ahead—it is your DUTY to judge the facts sanely. REASON BASED ON FACTS, NOT FEAR BASED ON LIES AND SLANDER, MUST GOVERN OUR DECISIONS.

500 Marine Aids Stem From Victoria To Guide Shipping

Lighthouses, the men who tend the lights, and those who man the ships that carry supplies to these oftentimes remote sentinels of shipping security, have long been praised in song and story, but despite the aura of romanticism which in past years has clung to this government service, few but mariners know much of the work and its responsibilities.

On the coast of British Columbia, there are two agencies, located at Victoria and Prince Rupert, functioning under the Department of Transport, Marine Services. William L. Stamford is head of the Victoria agency.

The marine agency here looks after all lights, buoys, fog signals and other marine aids to navigation on the west coast of Vancouver Island, up the inside passage to Queen Charlotte Sound, and on interior lakes to the Alberta border.

In this area there are some 223 lights, with 47 lightkeepers, 26 foghorns, 203 unlighted buoys plus 33 lighted buoys, as well as more than 200 wharves.

ISOLATED COAST

Lighthouses in the remote sections such as Kain's Island, off Cape Scott, are visited four times yearly. The unattended light buoys and others as well as beacons are visited once a year to replenish illuminating gas cylinders, painting and general preservation.

New equipment is constantly being established to meet the ever-increasing demands of shipping interests over the 1,500 miles of B.C.'s coastline.

Work is carried out in this region by two vessels, the C.G.S. Estevan and Berens, both operated from here.

The Estevan has been with the lighthouse service since 1912, and both she and the Berens are most adaptable to the work they undertake.

Bringing the Estevan's 600 tons alongside a bobbing, weighty buoy, often weighing from 12 to 14 tons, calls for seamanship of the highest order.

RADIO BEACONS

Newest contribution to navigation aids are radio beacons which have been in operation for some years, and this type of signal is in operation at the entrance to Vancouver harbor, off Point Atkinson, in conjunction with fog signals. Vessels pick up the radio beam, and can measure distance from shore by timing reception of the blast with that of their radio signal.

It is expected that radar will be used extensively following hostilities as a further step in mastery of the sea and coastal waters with their tides and treacherous reefs.

Logger Killed

Roy Olsen, superintendent of Bloedel, Stewart and Welch logging operations at Franklin River, was fatally injured Saturday and died in hospital at Port Alberni the same night. An inquest will be held Thursday.

B.C. to See Planes For Firefighting

The B.C. government forest department is planning to sign a contract for the operation of two aircraft in the Prince George district this year for forest protection.

Tenders for supplying the aircraft and the service were opened at the Parliament Buildings this afternoon.

Present plans of the forest protection service call for use of a small reconnaissance craft for patrolling the northern forest district, and for a larger transport type plane capable of carrying firefighters and equipment to the scene of a fire.

Sees War As Weld Of Allied Nations

"Out of all the afflictions and difficulties which have beset the Allied cause in this war, one happy truth has emerged, the knowledge that however wide the differences which must arise, our lives are joined one to another for all time," says a communication received by Alderman W. H. Davies from the Marchioness of Reading of the Women's Voluntary Services for Civil Defence, London, England.

Thanks are given him for the part he has played in sending supplies to blitz victims of Britain.

"Among all our remembrances," the communication goes on to say, "we remember the deep kindness received from you overseas, a kindness which from its psychological as well as its practical value, has been invaluable." "For all—we thank you, and pray that in the coming years we may continue in the most complete understanding—the building of a new world."

Political Briefs

Tom Reid, veteran New Westminster M.P., predicts more Liberals will be elected in B.C. this time than last. "The election tide is swinging definitely in favor of the Liberals," he says. In the last House of Parliament there were 10 Liberals from B.C.

The C.C.F.-advocated votes for Canadian-born Japanese would, in the opinion of Jack Gibson, Independent candidate in Comox-Alberni, add six or seven B.C. seats to the C.C.F. The party's policy, says Mr. Gibson, is sound politics for the 23,000 Japanese in B.C. probably 15,000 would vote C.C.F.

According to M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. national leader, the Liberals have regimented and attempted to destroy labor. They have been no more friendly to labor than were the Conservatives. Says Harry Bray, K.C., in a speech backing Sir Henry Drayton, Victoria Progressive Conservative candidate: The C.C.F. is using the unions to get power and when in office the unions would disown them.

Mitch Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, is getting a mixed reception in his campaign. At Sudbury he is reported to have been intermittently booed, cheered and interrupted and followed by a speech by a member of the audience.

Dinosaur bones, exhumed in the B.C. Legislature at the last session, are playing a part in the federal election campaign now. Says Dolly Steeves, C.C.F. M.L.A.: "The coalitions become as dead as dinosaurs." This time she was speaking in particular of a possible Liberal-Labor Progressive coalition.

Coming from him it was probably intended as a compliment when Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. M.L.A., said: "If any Liberal is progressive, it's Jimmy Sinclair." But from the same platform Mrs. Steeves suggested if Jimmy were a progressive, and an honest man, he would dissociate himself from the Liberal party.

Rubber Film Shown At Gyro Club

A film, entitled "Freedom Rides on Rubber," loaned by the National Film Library and put out by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, was shown by Andy Stewart of the British American Paint Company Ltd., at the weekly luncheon of the Gyro Club held at the Empress Hotel Monday.

With a musical background and commentary, the film traced the development of the tire industry in the United States and its efforts to create synthetic rubber products.

Mark Trueman thanked Mr. Stewart after the film. Before its showing, Frank Skinner, past president of the Prince Rupert Club, was welcomed together with Mr. Stewart, who is a member of Kiwanis.

Bert Osborough reported on the trip seven Victoria Gyros took to Port Alberni to install a new club there last Friday. Pat Dunn, who acted as secretary, announced the Pentiction Conference June 8-9, and the afternoon at Wartime Convalescent Homes, to which members have been invited. He also announced a club directors' meeting for Thursday at Terry's.

Salmon Arm May Build Apple Juice Factory

Construction of an apple juice plant at Salmon Arm is now being considered by the Salmon Arm Farmers' Exchange. It was learned today at the Parliament Buildings.

The exchange considers apple juice may become one of the most important by-products of the apple industry.

Return to the producers for apples would be $15 a ton. Estimated cost of the factory is $10,000.

BACK in town after over five years of action in the Italian theatre of war and on the western front with the famed Seaforth Highlanders, Eddie Short is still mighty interested in fastball. Chatting to the former star first sacker of several top-notch local nines before he left for overseas, Short expressed a desire to get back into the game. "I would like to get together a bunch of the old gang and play for one more season," he said, "and after that some of us could drop out and make way for the youngsters." Eddie, who was one of those fortunate enough to come through his long stretch without a scratch, played fastpitch while overseas, participating in two divisional finals. Outside of a real honest-to-goodness moultache the chunky little fellow has not changed much since the days he was scampering around Victoria ball diamonds.

SPECTATOR at the baseball games Saturday was Laurel Harney, former goalie of the Bapco and Victoria Machinery Depot hockey clubs, and coach of V.M.D. ball teams. Harney is back after a winter spent in eastern hockey as boss of the New York Rangers, amateur farm club of the New York Rangers. Questioned regarding his plans for the summer Harney was not certain he would turn out for baseball. "Feel pretty lousy after a long winter of hockey and I may lay around and take things easy," Harney said.

COUPLE of new club golf champions were crowned over the weekend. Walter Newcombe had a much easier time than anticipated in defeating his brother, Bill, for the Oak Bay honors. Talking to Bill earlier in the week he expressed confidence over his chances to win but was unable to control a faulty putter. At the Uplands Ed Cuppage had too much experience for young Ken Lea. The latter, who ruled a favorite with many of the Uplands members, shows promise of developing into one of the city's better players but needs a little more tournament seasoning. Highlight in the semi-finals of the men's championship at Colwood was the 23-hole battle between Alex Straith and Harold Lincham. "It was such a nice match to win," commented Straith, "but don't know how I'm going to hold up over 36-holes against Brian Hunnington in the final. That's an awful long way for an old fellow like me to travel."

WITH THE Kentucky Derby in the offing it is interesting to note that 19 former winners are still living. Here they are: 1918 Exterminator, 1920 Paul Jones, 1922 Morvich, 1928 Reigh Count, 1929 Clyde Van Dusen, 1930 Gallant Fox, 1931 Twenty Grand, 1932 Burgoon King, 1933 Brokers Tip, 1935 Omaha, 1936 Bold Venture, 1937 War Admiral, 1938 Lawrin, 1939 Johnstown, 1940 Callahadion, 1941 Whirlaway, 1942 Shut Out, 1943 Count Fleet, 1944 Pensive. Paul Jones and Clyde Van Dusen are now lead ponies, the latter at Santa Anita. Exterminator, an aged gelding, is on pension. So is Twenty Grand, which failed in stud. The others are in stud, with the exception of Pensive, which may return to the races this season. Retired at 28, Man o' War is living in retirement near Lexington.

Services Form Sport Body

Plan Heavy Program

Formation of a Lower Island Inter-Service Athletic Association to foster competitive sports among the armed forces in the Victoria area was announced today by Lt.-Col. Alex Park, R.C.N.V.R., president of the new body.

A wide program with the betterment of the troops' morale as the objective is planned. It includes the organization of more and varied sporting activities within the services to increase the numbers participating.

Competition among the three services in every type of sport is to be arranged, and trophies will be provided for golf, tennis, track and field, softball and swimming. It is hoped eventually to incorporate a north branch of the body into an all-island league, whose champions will compete with winners on the mainland.

Executive of the new group consists of President Park; Capt. Alex "Sandy" Spiers, first vice-president; F.O. George Hough, 2nd vice-president, and J. Morse, area Y.M.C.A. supervisor, secretary-treasurer. The president of the women's inter-service association also will have a vote on the governing body.

Glenlyon School In Cricket Win

Glenlyon School won their annual all-day cricket match against St. George's School, Vancouver. The scores for the double innings were: Glenlyon, 75; St. George's, 52.

Booth, captain of Glenlyon, got 12 wickets for 21 runs; Godfrey, 5 for 4. Bradley for Vancouver got eight wickets for 30 runs; Cantrell, seven wickets for 29. Top scores were: Glenlyon, Powell, 18; Booth 8 and Godfrey 8; St. George's: Davies 18 and Butler 6.

Jamaica Pays Off On Wrong Horse; Was $55 Winner

NEW YORK (AP)—Stewards of Jamaica's metropolitan jockey club decided Monday their association had paid off on the wrong horse last Monday at the rate of $55.40 for $2 in straight betting and at $1,001 for $2 in the daily double.

The stewards definitely identified the winner of the race as Grandpa Max. Previously Easy Spell had been regarded as the winner.

Both of the two-year-olds are trained by Sol Rutchick, who admits he can't tell the difference between the two. They are by the same sire, Easy Mon, and have the same coloring and conformation except that Easy Spell has a white spot on his right hind leg. Both are owned by Fred Landsburgh.

Neither had raced before last Monday. Grandpa Max, programmed as Easy Spell, won the opening race of the New York season. Easy Spell, listed on the program as Grandpa Max, finished ninth in a nine-horse field on Wednesday.

BETTING PAYOFF STANDS
Marshall Cassidy, assistant secretary of the jockey club (New York), said the betting payoff would stand but that first place money in the race would go to Twenty-Six, who finished second in the race.

"It was an innocent mistake," said Cassidy, "and no other penalty will be imposed." When Easy Spell's registration certificate was produced in the paddock before the May 21 race, failure of the paper to list the white spot was noticed but the colt was approved and the papers sent to trainer Rutchick for correction.

After Wednesday's race A. L. Kleven purchased Grandpa Max, really Easy Spell, and Cassidy

Navy Beat Eagles

Fireman Weigand Star

Navy ball team chalked up its second win of the season Monday night at the expense of the Eagles, 11 to 8, but Coach Bobby Weigand had to do the fireman's act in the seventh inning when the lodgemen threatened to move out in front. Win boosted the sailors into a tie with the Army for third place behind the V.M.D. and R.C.A.F. tied for first.

After moving into an 8 to 1 lead in the first two frames the Navy saw their margin threatened as the Eagles suddenly started to hit the offerings of pitcher Earl King all over the lot. With four runs across and two men on the bags Weigand thumbed King out of the game and stroled to the pitching mound. With nobody out Bobby set down France, Ruryk and McLellan on strikes as the fans gave him a big hand.

Weigand continued to spot pitch the Eagles into the dirt in the eighth by striking out the side. In support of such fine pitching the Navy went out and grabbed off two more runs in the ninth to give Weigand a three-run lead to work on. In the ninth Bobby struck out two batters with the third man going down trying to pilfer second. It was one of the neatest pitching tricks of the season.

FIVE PITCHERS WORK
Don Johnson was the Navy starting hurler but retired after five innings due to a sore back. King, who replaced him, got safely through the sixth but retired in the seventh when the Eagles started to really hit the ball. Rosy McLellan opened on the mound for the Eagles but gave up in favor of Arnold Ellis.

Rosy McLellan opened on the mound for the Eagles but gave up in favor of Arnold Ellis.

after being hammered for six hits and five runs in two-thirds of an inning. Ellis, after giving up three runs in the second got going nicely until that two-run rally in the ninth.

Hal Yardley, Eagles' shortstop, was the night's leading batter with four for five. Frank McArde, Navy first baseman, collected four for six including three doubles.

Tomorrow night at 6:15 the R.C.A.F. will battle the Army. Short score as follows:

Navy R. H. E.
Eagles 11 7 3
Batteries—Johnson, King, Weigand and Bartko; McLellan, Ellis and Hayden.

Torchy Peden Home Pending Discharge

On leave, pending discharge from the R.C.A.F., Torchy Peden is spending a few days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Peden, Princess Avenue.

Since joining the air force over two and a half years ago the former six-day bicycle racing star has been associated with physical training.

Torchy will leave for Chicago and Cleveland this week to investigate the chances to become interested in sports promotion. He will also look into the possibilities of bringing back the six-day bike racing game. Peden will return to Vancouver next month for his final discharge.

FASTBALL MEETING

Senior "B" men's fastball team managers are asked to meet the executive of the Lower Island Fastball Association at the Libral Headquarters, Broughton Street, this evening at 8:30.

Foster's Girls, Sports Club Win Fastball Tilts

Before a cheering crowd at Central Park last night, Joe Foster's girls defeated the Clerks' Union fastball nine 18 to 6.

It was the Clerks' first game of the season and, according to Judy Arnold, they had little previous practice. Judy played for the Hudson's Bay last season, and was regarded as one of the top pitchers of the year. But in last night's game she played short stop and, turned in a good performance.

Coach Tommy Hibberd's choice for the mound was Bernice Pollard, who pitched a fine game for the losing team.

Worthy of mention was Joyce Stauffer, third-baser for the Clerks' Union. Joe Foster's pitching star, Helen Pettigrew, once again led her team to victory. Besides bringing in five runs, two on a pair of home runs, she pitched an outstanding game.

Chris Gibson, who played shortstop for Foster's, did her bit in the third stanza. It was due to her fine play that three players were called out in running order. Along with Mary Manson she shared equal glory for runs scored.

PLAYER BANISHED

Umpire A. Simpson had a tough battle on his hands last night, and got into some real arguments which finally led to his ordering J. An Zarak of Foster's out of the game in the second inning. She was replaced at short by Peggy Muir.

Many of last year's players were welcomed by their fans, and among these were Elaine Barry, Chris Gibson, Helen Pettigrew, Skippy Mead, Mary Manson, Pat Yeamans, D. Goldsmith, Kay Trevelyan, Dot Graham and V. Ball.

Joe Foster's team is being coached by Wally Yeamans, and which last year sailed under the Unity's banner.

In a senior B men's game Sports Club defeated Brentwood Aces 13 to 11. After gaining an 11 to 3 lead the Sports Club had to call on veteran southpaw Lloyd Jones to shut off a thrilling rally by the Aces in the last inning that produced three runs.

Short scores follow. R. H. E. Sports Club 13 17 3 Brentwood 11 5 3 Batteries: Brent, Jones and Watson; Knott, Aspinall and J. Turner. R. H. E. Joe Foster's 18 20 3 Clerks' Union 6 7 2 Batteries: Pettigrew and Manson; Pollard and Trevelyan.

WESTS WORKOUT

Victoria West Football Club will hold workouts at Macdonald Park tonight and Thursday nights at 6:30 in preparation for Saturday's Province Cup semi-final against Vancouver St. Saviours. All players are requested to attend.

Pittsburgh Starts Serious Flag Drive

Pittsburgh is beginning to live up to its press notices after a miserable spring start and is showing serious intentions towards its first pennant since 1927.

Seven straight victories have rekindled Forbes Field interest that was red hot late last summer when the Bucs knocked St. Louis' around the lot in a wild but futile spurt. However, Pittsburgh fans still remember the 1938 folding job and are cautious.

Off-season gossip tabbed the Pirates as the Cards' most serious opposition and many "experts" went overboard on Frankie Frisch's chances of dethroning the Red Birds.

But the club was almost left at the post, winning only two of its first nine starts against the Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs, and floundering under the 500 mark until the eastern teams moved west.

After trimming New York in the second game of a Polo Grounds doubleheader May 20, the Pirates returned home and beat the Giants the next night, then took three in a row from Boston and have won two straight from New York in the current series.

It took Frisch two days to win the second tilt from the leaders. Carrying over a 10 to 5 lead in a "suspended" game of Sunday, the Pirates made it certain, 11 to 5, when they finished it yesterday. Rain saved the Giants from another possible setback as Pittsburgh led 2 to 0 at the end of four innings and needed only three more outs to make it legal when the game was postponed.

DODGERS FADE

Brooklyn continued to fade, dropping a 5 to 3 tilt to Chicago and sinking into fourth place three percentage points behind Pittsburgh and the Cubs, tied for second. Paul Derringer gave the Dodgers a shove down the ladder with an eight-hitter for his sixth victory, beating rookie Ray Harbo, who was making his first big league start.

Cincinnati drew only 2,620 paying customers, smallest night crowd of the year in the city that inaugurated after-dark play in the majors 10 years ago, but the Reds pulled one out of the fire, 2 to 1, over Boston in 12 innings.

Nate Andrews had Cincy shut out 1 to 0 going into the last of the ninth on Tommy Holmes' third homer of the year when a two-base error on Phil Masi's wild heave and an outfield fly permitted Gee Walker to tie it up. Eddie Miller's single finally broke it up in the 12th, earning freshman Howard Fox his first decision and handing Andrews a fourth tough setback.

The Philadelphia-St. Louis night tilt in the National and Cleveland-Philadelphia, Detroit-Washington, St. Louis-New York contests in the American were rained out.

Only American League action found Chicago snapping out of a six-game losing streak to blister Boston, 8 to 6, after manager Jimmy Dykes called off hitting

Hold Splash Party

A successful splash party and social was held recently at the Crystal Garden by members of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club. There were 64 members present. Following the swim session, games and competitions were enjoyed.

At a general meeting it was arranged to hold a swim party at Beaver Lake June 10. Miss Lorna Lee, 1932 Quanchian Avenue, is in charge, and would like as many members as possible who have bicycles to get in touch with her.

Socializing Plants Not Big Problem, J. L. Phelps Says

Resources Minister J. L. Phelps, the man of the Saskatchewan C.C.F. government charged with rehabilitating the province's natural resources, predicted at an election meeting here Monday night that not as much difficulty as had been expected would be found in socializing industries.

"I think when the time comes for you to meet the companies they will not be unfair," he said at a C.C.F. rally in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Mrs. May Campbell was in the chair. The collection yielded $166.55.

Mr. Phelps referred to one Saskatchewan company whose directors had agreed that they did not want to be a public nuisance.

"When I asked if he considered that his firm had been working to the public interest, the man said I had the advantage in the argument," he said.

In Saskatchewan in 1944, he said, three lumber firms operated a major share of the province's second industry, two companies controlled 80 per cent of the province's coal output, and one company mined 90 per cent of the province's oil.

"Six companies control over 80 per cent of the natural resources of the province," he said. "One of these companies last year made about $1,000,000 profit every 30 days."

DOESN'T BLAME FIRMS

"I'm not blaming the companies themselves," he continued. "You and I are to be blamed because we elected governments which let them operate and you can't blame these companies if they put substantial amounts into the election kitty each year."

"There is one company here that has altogether too much control of your timber industry for your own good. The forests of this province, of Saskatchewan, Alberta and other provinces belong to you—you are the shareholders—they belong to you—or should do."

Describing the forthcoming poll as perhaps the most important election of Canadian history, he said Canadians had the choice of taking the road leading down to free enterprise or taking the other road leading to the co-operative way of life.

He said he knew of no person in Saskatchewan who had been forced off his farm through C.C.F. legislation. The C.C.F. had improved conditions for farmers by eliminating interest payments in years when the return to farmers was less than $6 per acre and by protecting the farmer from eviction or foreclosure from his homestead quarter—the 160 acres on which his home was located.

As Minister of Health, Premier T. Douglas had done more to improve the health of Saskatchewan in 10 months than any other government since the province was created in 1905, he said. He mentioned free cancer treatment and diagnosis; protection of the interests of persons suffering mental diseases; a strong campaign against venereal diseases; free medical aid for 25,000 old age pensioners, recipients of mothers' allowances and other needy.

He said the C.C.F. had increased old age pensions and provided social security for pensioners as well as for those receiving mothers' allowances.

EDUCATIONAL REFORM

Several larger units of education have been opened up, salaries of teachers have been increased, free text books provided and a program started to develop education facilities in the northern part of the province, he said, predicting numerous other educational advances in Saskatchewan.

In his department, he said, the support of logging companies had been secured in raising the diameter limits of logs to protect the forest yield; power and industrial development programs were progressing satisfactorily, and steps taken to improve fur production. The first woolen mill in Saskatchewan would be in production in a few months; a brick plant had been taken over and would be in operation in a few weeks, and within 36 hours announcement would be made that Saskatchewan was to have its first shoe factory.

Saskatchewan had been a guinea pig, he said, adding: "The C.C.F. are making a sincere, honest attempt to introduce the necessary social and economic reforms so that the people can make a living for themselves."

A start, he said, had been made, or legislation had been completed, on every one of the nine planks in the C.C.F.'s election campaign last year.

Liberals and Progressive Conservatives in Victoria were challenged by F.O. Murray Bryce, C.C.F. candidate, to publish statements of the sources of their campaign funds.

"Pointing out what he described as discriminations in the administration of veterans' affairs, F.O. Bryce said pensions were not granted on disability only, but on rank. High officers and their wives received three times the pensions that privates and their wives received."

F.O. Bryce said over $1,500,000,000 in war profits had been salted away by large Canadian corporations, which intended to declare these sums as dividends as soon as corporation and income taxes were eased. He described these sums as money stolen from Canadians who had invested in Victory Bonds.

Revelstoke Blocks Victory Road Plan

B.C. government's proposal to seek a right-of-way through Washington state for a Victory Highway west from Grand Forks has come under fire from the Revelstoke Board of Trade.

Revelstoke citizens believe that the province should complete the Trans-Canada Highway into a first-class road before going ahead with the plan to improve the connection between the Kootenay Valley and the coast.

Library Gets Queries On Marriage, Fish, Photography

Marriage of minors, dehydration of fish and the use of black light in photography—these are just a few of the varied queries received at Victoria's Public Library during the course of day, Miss Margaret Clay, librarian, said today in commenting on current reading trends.

"No matter how unusual the query we try to answer it," Miss Clay said. "All such queries are handled by the reference department which is under Thressa Pollock."

Information on garden culture, Begonia growing and sound proofing as well as queries on any number of technical items, are received at the library.

Of the reading trends in Victoria Miss Clay said that residents of Greater Victoria have been reading more non-fiction books during the war years 1939 to 1944, with circulation of all types of books increased by 11 per cent and that of non-fiction books increased by 23 per cent. Fiction increase has been five per cent.

"One of the library's most popular books has been Matthew Halton's Ten Years to Alamein, and another favorite is Alexander Woolcott's Letters," Miss Clay said.

"All over the continent there is an increase in the circulation of books on art in all its phases—town planning, house planning and the fine arts."

She attributed much of the increase of 38 per cent in the circulation of the history reading class to the number of personal war narratives—books by foreign correspondents and by service-

Sailor Cleared On Dog Cruelty Charge

Magistrate H. C. Hall, in city police court Monday, dismissed a charge of attempting to kill a dog, laid against a chief petty officer.

Three witnesses for the prosecution told the court they had seen the sailor come out of a cafe on Douglas Street and throw the dog in front of an oncoming streetcar.

The accused told Magistrate Hall he had been asked by the doorman at the cafe to take the dog across the street as, apparently, which are grouped in this class.

In the children's department an increase in circulation of 30 per cent was noted and another item of interest was the increase by 38 per cent in overdue notices.

ently frightened by a gang of other dogs, it had been continually trying to get into the cafe. As he was crossing the street, the sailor said, the streetcar clanged its bell and the dog, already nervous, wriggled out of his arms into the path of the streetcar.

Magistrate Hall said the accused's good naval character was not consistent with the action the prosecution witnesses believed they had seen. He believed the sailor was attempting to save the dog, the magistrate said.

Old Faithful...that's our Ford!

Back of Ford dependability...the Ford V-8 Engine

ARMY MEN demand a lot from the machines they drive. They have found the Ford V-8 Engine has stamina for tough work, can slog vehicles through where no peacetime truck would ever be asked to go—and still keep them advancing.

Back home, you'll find this same affection shown by owners of Fords that are growing old in civilian service. Their V-8 Engines continue to serve them faithfully, carrying on year after year with the same dependable power, the same saving of fuel, with low expense for repairs and service.

And the Ford of the future will carry on this tradition of economy, reliability and long life. Into it will go a V-8 Engine that has been refined and improved as a result of its battle-testing on the war fronts of the world. Its flashing performance will outshine the Ford V-8 of other years. It will establish new records in operating economy.

Make War Victory Economic Victory, Chambers Urges

The so-called Progressive Conservative party is actually not opposing in Quebec candidates who are the ultra-nationalists of Quebec, Lt. Col. Alan Chambers, D.S.O., Liberal candidate in Nanaimo riding, told election meetings at Colwood and Metehosin Monday evening.

He said he is again asking a mandate from the people for two reasons, first, to prosecute the war against the Japanese—"for first things still come first" and secondly for a proper turning over of a war economy to a peace economy, "so our military victory will be an economic victory—so that Canada can provide a decent standard of living for all her people."

"We are going to encourage the initiative of the individual under controls," he said. "We are going to maintain controls and we are going to extend the national credit to the individual."

"We have great things to do in Canada—we can go forward sensibly and progressively or go back, or attempt to go forward so quickly we will trip over ourselves on the way."

U.S. PRAISE FOR WAR EFFORT

At Metehosin Col. Chambers was supported by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., who told the audience something of her experiences at the San Francisco World Security Conference. She said that in San Francisco she had heard nothing but praise of Canada's war effort and what Canada had done in price control and that it had been rather a shock to come home and hear some people running down Canada's war effort.

"I think a great many of the things that are being said are terribly unfair," she said.

The conscription issue is dead, Mrs. Hodges said, and persons who raise it now are flogging a dead horse. She said she was one of those persons who believed conscription would have been a good thing from the start, but said she agreed with some Conservatives a few years ago when they said conscription could easily cause civil war in this country. Mrs. Hodges reminded her audience that the Conservative party, at the 1940 election, was as much against conscription for overseas service as the Liberal party.

"They held that attitude until they thought their political fortunes would be enhanced if they changed it. To hear some people talk you would think it was only the head of the Liberal party who said no conscription," said the speaker.

Of family allowances, Mrs. Hodges said "I think it is one of the very finest things Canada has ever done and will help the rural people of Canada a great deal."

At the Colwood meeting J. P. A. Christensen was in the chair and Col. Chambers was thanked by W. E. Stevenson. At Metehosin the chairman was Harold Walker.

Finds Father Here After 7-Year Hunt

A Vancouver man's seven-year search for his father has had a fluke finish in Victoria almost stranger than fiction.

Sixteen years ago, Patrick R. Bell of Vancouver ran away from home and went to California. In 1938 he began an intensive search for his father, but met no success. In 1942 Pat returned to B.C. to enlist in the Canadian army. He was discharged last August and since then has been logging.

Saturday he came to Victoria. He was walking down a street when suddenly he saw something familiar about an old man passing him.

"Pardon me, sir," he said, stopping the man. "Is your name Alex Bell?"

When he received an affirmative answer, Pat Bell asked: "Any serious objections to shaking hands with your son?"

The man, who was identified as Alex Bell, said he was the father of Patrick R. Bell.

Sidney Businessmen Talk Incorporation

Incorporation of the village of Sidney will be discussed at a meeting at the Sidney School Friday night at which E. H. Bridgman, deputy minister of municipal affairs, will speak on incorporation and outline the steps preparatory to making a formal application.

Mr. Bridgman said today the incorporation of Sidney was still in the discussion stage. Chief sponsor of the plan is the Sidney Businessmen's Association.

Meanwhile the village of Parksville, 100 miles north of Victoria, has forwarded a petition to the municipal affairs department applying for incorporation. The department is now studying the petition. Approval of the lieutenant-governor is necessary for issuing the letters of patent.

Reports from the village said the petition had been signed by 85 per cent of the citizens.

Mayhew Explains Lack of Materials For Home-Building

"We could have all the housing in Canada we need if we wanted to keep all our own lumber and divert other materials from essential war purposes," R. W. Mayhew Liberal candidate, declared to an election meeting in South Park School Monday night.

"But could we do that, knowing that only one house in five in England is undamaged and that they must build a house every 12 seconds for three years in order just to provide a roof over people's heads," he added.

Britain, he said, is getting 40 per cent of all Canadian lumber. Only 30 per cent is retained for Canadian needs.

Mr. Mayhew, who was supported at the meeting by Carew Martin and C. J. McDowell, said that the recent easing of permit restrictions following V.E. Day will be of assistance in relieving the housing shortage, although some materials will still be in short supply.

The government's program for housing will be of vast assistance in meeting the condition, although one would think to hear some talk that nothing had been done. He outlined the plan of loans and financing for home renovation, new house building, low cost housing, low rental housing schemes and slum clearance.

Mr. Mayhew predicted that even with these aids, Victoria still may have to face congested conditions as the war effort turns to the Pacific. Added naval needs on the coast and other war requirements may bring more essential people here.

Declaring that the volunteer plan for naval service was part of a general scheme for reallocation of forces after the European victory, Mr. Mayhew refuted Progressive Conservative charges that it was intended to "divide" the navy.

THE FAIREST WAY

Some men, he pointed out, will be needed for occupation forces, some for Pacific service and some will be discharged back to civilian life. Surely the fairest way was to adopt the volunteer system for service.

"I would ask Sir Henry to stop criticizing and tell us how he would do it," Mr. Mayhew declared. "Then we could do some backseat driving for a change."

Regarding the removal of naval men from Naden to Cornwallis in Nova Scotia, Mr. Mayhew said it would have been a pretty mess for every member of Parliament to attempt to interfere with movements of troops in his own riding.

"How on earth could we win a war on this basis?" he asked. "As a matter of fact, when that was done, the need for naval men was on the Atlantic."

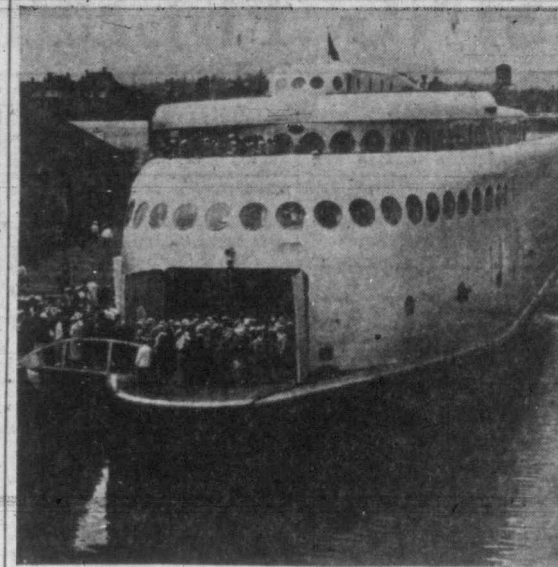

Mr. McDowell, declaring the Progressive Conservatives were "standing still and living in the past," said it ill behooved a man like Sir Henry Drayton, who issued 5% per cent tax-free bonds payable in New York to finance the last war, to criticize the amazingly successful financial handling of the current struggle.

He said the C.C.F. were handing out the "most diabolical political promises," attempting to exploit the shortcomings in human nature, and declared they never said how they would make their promises come true.

Mr. Martin dealt exclusively with the government's rehabilitation plan for veterans, which he described as a carefully conceived plan, in great contrast to the chaos for servicemen after the last war.

H. E. A. Courtney was chairman.

May Operate to Victoria

Last here on a brief trip from Seattle in July, 1936, the ultra-modern streamline steamer Kalakala of the Black Ball Line, may be put in operation between Victoria and Seattle in the near future. The vessel is the only one of its kind on the coast, and is believed to be the only streamlined ferry in operation anywhere. She carries approximately 80 cars and can accommodate 1,000 people. Hitherto she has been running between Seattle and Bremerton. If the Kalakala operates from Victoria it will be at week-ends only, it is said.

Dr. M. J. Keys, 74, Passed Away Today

Dr. Morton James Keys, 74, well-known eye, ear, nose and throat specialist who has practiced in Victoria since 1915, passed away today at St. Joseph's Hospital. Dr. Keys was born in Ottawa Valley, Ont. He had been in ill-health for some time and in September last, Dr. F. P. McNamee took over his practice at 625 Fort Street. Up to the time Dr. Keys was taken to hospital he had resided at the Empress Hotel.

He leaves two sisters and a brother.

A private funeral service will be held Thursday from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors, followed by cremation.

1,128,315 Empire Casualties From All Fronts of War

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill announced today that during the first 66 months of the war—up to the end of February, 1945—British Empire arm forces had suffered 1,128,315 casualties, including 307,201 killed.

The reported death toll was only a little more than one-third as large as that of the Empire during the 52 months of the First Great War.

The figures included casualties from all war fronts, including the Far East, 10 Downing Street said.

In reporting to the House of Commons, Mr. Churchill said additional losses were inflicted on the civilian population of Britain by enemy bombardment. He said civilian casualties totaled 60,585 killed, 86,175 seriously injured and upwards of 150,000 slightly injured.

Mr. Churchill listed British military casualties during the First Great War as 3,286,000, including 996,230 dead.

Defence Headquarters in Ottawa announced May 11 that Canada suffered 102,875 casualties in the Army, Navy and Air Force, including 37,206 dead and 3,769 missing, up to May 7, the end of the war in Europe.

The Army suffered 79,774 casualties, including 21,478 dead. The R.C.A.F. casualties totaled 20,702, including 13,858 dead, while the Navy had 2,399 casualties, including 1,870 dead.

Frigate Matane Hit With 1 Dead, 3 Lost

OTTAWA (CP)—The story of one of the Luftwaffe's dying thrusts, a five-minute glider-bomb attack on a Canadian naval patrol in the English Channel in which the Canadian frigate Matane was damaged, one of her crew died of wounds, three others are missing and 11 were injured, was released today by Navy Minister Abbott.

The announcement said the attack took place some months ago in the approaches to the English Channel while the Matane and other Canadian frigates were on anti-submarine patrol. Three Dorniers, preying where no enemy planes had been seen for months, launched a number of flying bombs.

But only one hit home, striking the Matane on the quarter deck, and going on to explode in the water beside the engine room, buckling a number of plates. The Matane's watertight bulkheads held, however, and she was towed to port. Repaired, she went back into service before V.E. Day.

The list of dead, missing and wounded included:

DIED OF WOUNDS
ERA. John A. Cole, Stranraer, Alta.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED
Lieut. (E) Bruce J. Anderson, Revelstoke, B.C.

ERA. Robert Bonfonti, Mound, Alta.

Dr. Basil Matthews On Youth Problems

Dr. Basil Matthews, of Union College, Vancouver, speaking before a youth rally at Metropolitan Church Monday evening on "How Youth Can Shape the Future," said the major problems youth is facing all around the world can be reduced to five in number.

First of these, said Dr. Matthews, is that, as the state is getting more powerful, "youth feels it is just a pawn to be hurled into war." They also feel that the "great world economic forces use them as cogs in a machine." The result is to give youth a feeling of frustration, he said.

Contacts with other races everywhere creates tension and young people have to discover how to live with people of different color or face inter-racial war, the speaker continued, and as the fourth problem he said, "Everywhere the family is going through tremendous changes—most of all in Asia." In this question of the right relations in the family, youth feels rebellious toward parents, and at the same time the greater freedom between boy and girl "often leads them into license."

The fifth, he said, "is fundamental to everything. What is the meaning of my life? Am I just a bubble that bursts when I die or am I an immortal spirit?"

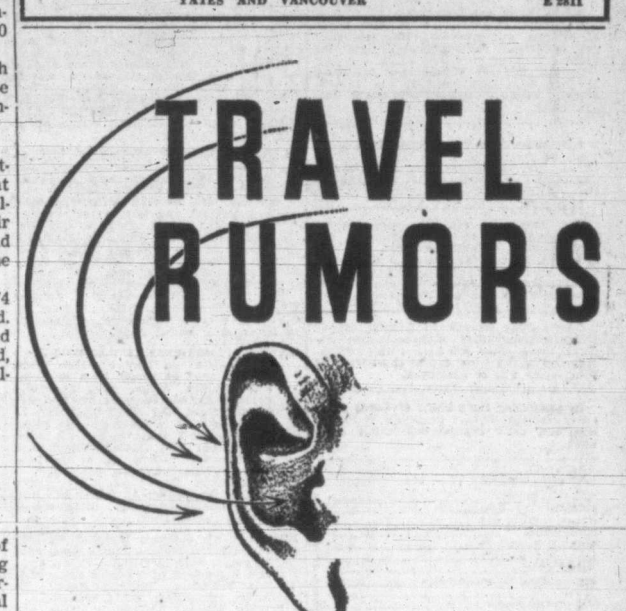

World traveler, religious leader, and author of more than 30 books on race problems and other subjects, Dr. Matthews concluded, "It's only when we see that the fatherhood of God governs everything that we can solve all these on power development sites on the island. Mr. McIntyre will investigate all the sites considered suitable for power development.

Later it is expected that Mr. Acres of the same firm may come to B.C. to help the commission survey sites and possibly design hydro-electric plants. Mr. Acres is the leading figure of the firm which makes its headquarters at Niagara Falls, Ont., and which has helped develop some of the largest power projects in Canada, including the Shipshaw project in Quebec.

At the last session of the B.C. Legislature $10,000,000 capital was allocated to the commission. Recently it was announced the development of power on Vancouver Island would be among the first projects undertaken by the commission.

Miss Ella Marr, president of the Vancouver Island Presbytery of the United Church Young People's Union, was chairman.

Dr. Matthews will address a W.M.S. rally at Metropolitan Church this afternoon, a meeting at St. Barnabas Church Wednesday afternoon at 2.30, and a public meeting at Metropolitan Friday night at 8, when his subject will be "The Brown Man's Burden."

3 Things For Voters To Remember

Those Canadians who are considering voting for a C.C.F. Socialist candidate in the coming election, either as a "protest" or because they are attracted by the pleasing promises presented by the State Socialists, should pause and ponder carefully the consequences of such a vote.

Here are three points to bear in mind

If You Vote C.C.F.

1 You are voting not merely to change the Government but to change our entire system of Government—substituting a foreign-born scheme of "State Socialism" for our democratic way of life.

2 You are voting to turn over to the C.C.F. politicians complete control of our lives.

3 The C.C.F. program of "State Socialism" can only be carried out under an absolute dictatorship.

If that is what you want then vote for C.C.F. But—if you want to retain your individual freedom and right to live your life as you choose, then you simply cannot vote for any C.C.F. candidate, because every such candidate is positively committed to Complete State Socialism, under which the politicians would take over control of the country,—lock, stock and barrel!

The C.C.F. promises of "full employment," "re-distribution of wealth," and a "minimum standard of living for all" are on condition that we let them tell us what we can or cannot do, make, grow or buy. Under their "National Plan" everyone—the butcher, the farmer, the manufacturer, or housewife—would be compelled to abide by all the regulations and controls they set up.

History proves that any such program of State Socialism inevitably leads to an absolute dictatorship.

The C.C.F. appeal is designed primarily to create dissension and to arouse suspicion, jealousy and even hate between one class of Canadian and another. For example, the Socialists would have you believe that the average Canadian standard of living is terrible—due to the "cruel tyranny of the rich." But what are the facts? What countries have the radios? The motor cars? The telephones? The bathtubs? The electrical appliances? WE HAVE! The people of Canada and the United States have more of the good things of life than the people of Europe ever dreamed of. And how did we get all this? Did the Government give it to us? NO! We got it through HARD WORK.

Under our system of Free Enterprise we have developed a standard of living that is the envy of the entire world. So, while we have had some setbacks and have developed some faults and a few vices that need correcting, anyone who suggests that, to do this, we should scrap our way of life and substitute the foreign-born program of "State Socialism" is trying to sell Canada down the river.

Not one Canadian in a hundred would tolerate any such program as State Socialism once they lived under it. But if we let the C.C.F. Socialists experiment with their "National Plan" we may never be able to get rid of it. So don't risk your individual freedom. Vote against the C.C.F. candidate in your riding. BUT BE SURE TO VOTE.

Bracken Says Liberal Party's Policy Brings Canada Disunity

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charging that the Liberal government's manpower policy had brought disunity, John Bracken, Progressive Conservative national leader at a political rally here Monday night said that disunity arose from failure to require "a measure of equality of sacrifice," and that draftees were not being sent to the Pacific because Prime Minister King's policy was "being determined by partisan political considerations, looking to his again gaining political support of Quebec."

Other speakers at the rally were Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., party candidate in Vancouver-Burrard; Howard Green, former member and party candidate in Vancouver South, and Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., candidate in Nanaimo.

Of charges that his party was supporting anti-conscription candidates in Quebec, Mr. Bracken said Mr. King had maintained himself in office through his deals with Quebec and should be the last man in Canada to charge the Progressive Conservative Party with such tactics.

NOT BACKING HOUEDE

During his address, Mr. Bracken made the following points:

1. He was not supporting Mayor Camilien Houede of Montreal, Independent candidate in Montreal-St. Mary's.
2. The Progressive Conservative Party has only 27 candidates in Quebec, compared with 60 Liberal candidates.
3. The present government's manpower policy had placed a stigma on the French-Canadian people.
4. The Progressive Conservative Party in government would not allow Japanese to reside in British Columbia.

5. The party, if elected, would take steps at once to provide homes for veterans at fair rental until such time as they are able to obtain permanent homes.

FOR TWO DECADES

Mr. Bracken said that for 20 years prior to the war, Mr. King, to obtain his political fortunes with a minority, blinded the people of Canada to the true state of conditions, by telling them that Canada would never again become involved in a European conflict.

The present government would not send National Resources Mobilization troops to the Pacific war, but it would send men who fought in Europe and who volunteered to fight against Japan.

In all this, Mr. King's war policy is being determined by partisan political considerations, looking to his again gaining political support of Quebec.

With respect to the Japanese in Canada, the Progressive Conservative Party felt that in the interest of national safety, and in the interest of the standard of living of fishermen and other workers, as well as the long-term interest of the Japanese themselves, they should no longer remain on or adjacent to the Pacific Coast.

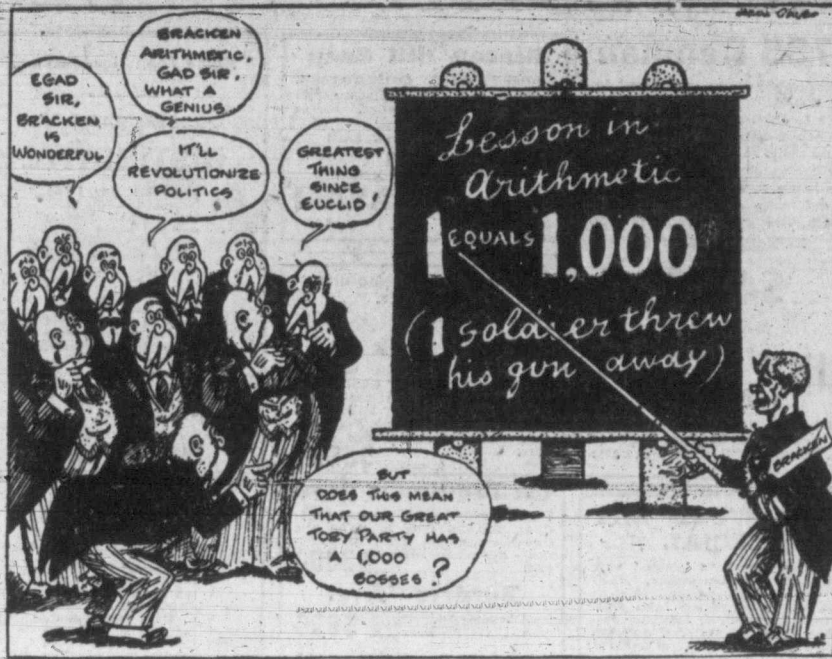

The Japanese would be excluded from British Columbia, both in peacetime and in wartime. Mr. Bracken said that across Canada he had been impressed with the failure of the government to provide a practical solution for the housing shortage, which affected almost every urban centre from coast to coast.

His party would undertake to provide homes for veterans, and it would use the financial resources of the Dominion in clearing slums and in providing subsidized housing for those in the lowest income groups.

MERRITT SPEAKS
Col. Merritt said one of the chief issues in the election was whether Canadians should adopt free enterprise or state dictation as their basic economic policy.

From experience during the war it was found that a Canadian soldier could be led anywhere, but could not be driven and this applied also to the Canadian people, said Col. Merritt, who recently was released from a German camp where he had been interned after being captured at Dieppe, in 1942.

OAK BAY THEATRE

A joyous time is promised when picture-goers see the latest version of the famous stage farce,

Dominion Presents Spy Thrill Drama

Lee Tracy, resuming his film career after his recent honorable discharge from the army, shares stellar honors with Nancy Kelly, versatile screen favorite in “Betrayal From the East,” RKO Radio’s exciting drama of Japanese treachery in this country, now being shown at the Dominion Theatre.

The co-stars are cast as civilians working under orders of Army Intelligence, assigned to the dangerous job of counter-spying against oriental agents who seek to defeat American defense plans. How the counter-spies endeavor to sell false plans to the enemy instead of authentic documents and how the substitution is discovered, results in a series of dramatic highlights. The stirring film was directed by William Berke and produced by Herman Schlom.

“My Wife’s Family,” which is currently at the Oak Bay Theatre, Charlie Clapham, one of the chief funsters of the variety stage, is co-starred with John Warwick, and there are plenty of gags and wise-cracking to keep them busy.

British Columbia’s Men of the Woods

The prosperity of all the people of this province depends largely upon our forest industries. Because this is so, this Company feels that a series of messages concerning the men who work in the woods and the problems of the industry will be both informative and interesting. Here we describe the work of Relatively a new-comer in the brotherhood of loggers, the Cat Driver is the lineal descendant of the bull whacker of ox-team logging days. He is a rugged individual, highly respected by men of his craft, whose career is anything but monotonous.

THE CAT DRIVER

His cat is not a cat but an iron-and-steel monster with the power of hundreds of oxen and none of their docility. It drags the logs to the landing from the place where the fallers have dropped them.

The cat driver, the faller and the high-rigger are members of the action-minded crew who are helping to convert our forest wealth to the uses of mankind.

Labor, Material Shortage Construction Bottleneck

Modification of the License Control to speed up the building of homes was a step in the right direction, but labor and material have become No. 1 problems which must be solved immediately, Victor L. Leigh, president of the Builders' Exchange, said today.

He was commenting on an announcement by Munitions Minister C. D. Howe at Ottawa that effective immediately, construction control licenses for the building of houses in the Victoria and Vancouver areas would be granted freely, where essentially needed.

"Other controls must now be modified to ensure sufficient material, such as lumber, cast iron sewer pipe, drain tile, bath tubs, plaster, etc. being diverted to this area to complete the homes now being licensed by the construction controller, Mr. Leigh said.

"Victoria has been declared an emergency shelter area, and it is the opinion of the Victoria Builders' Exchange that private building in this district should be given the same facilities to purchase supplies and obtain labor as are enjoyed by War-time Housing. Immediately this government housing agency goes to work on a contract they are given a high priority for the purchase of supplies and they always seem to obtain the necessary material with little difficulty.

"We appreciate the government's decision to facilitate the building of 50,000 homes in Canada during the next 12 months and certain they will find a solution to our difficulties in their efforts to achieve this objective."

MUST BE SOLVED

Mr. Leigh stated that when there was rigid control of licenses and only 25 a week were issued for the lower mainland and Vancouver Island the seriousness of labor and material was not so apparent. During the past few weeks the number was increased to 75 a week.

"Now that we are promised a still greater speed up in the granting of licenses and if we are to derive any benefit from these concessions, labor and material become our No. 1 problem and it must be solved immediately," Mr. Leigh said.

Otherwise this speed up in licenses will cause a wild scramble for available men and material, and we shall be faced by winter with many unfinished homes and find ourselves in a far worse position."

Lumber stocks, according to Mr. Leigh, are non-existent in the city and contractors are faced with the problem of day to day manufacture for their requirements. The situation, in his opinion, would be greatly eased, if one of the local mills, which was forced to shut down some time ago for lack of logs, were to start cutting lumber again.

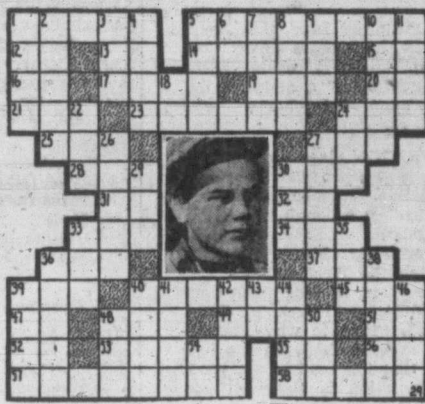

Plastering is the most serious bottleneck, he said. There were not sufficient plasterers to plaster the houses before the increase in licenses, and unless National Selective Service can divert plasterers and their helpers back to their trade from the shipyards, army, etc., the number of houses that will be completed this year is definitely fixed by this factor alone, Mr. Leigh said.

Athabaskan Survivors Arrive at New York

Repatriated survivors of the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan, sunk in the English Channel in the spring of 1944 during a clash with the enemy off the French coast, arrived in New York Monday. Among them was CPO. Steve Durnell, whose wife, Clara, lives at 1502 Gladstone Avenue. He was burned and wounded by shrapnel in the action in which he was taken prisoner.

Noted Artists Show Alaska Highway Work

A. Y. Jackson and H. G. Glyde, A.R.C.A., covered immense distances working under difficult conditions to paint the work of the Alaska Highway for Canada's war records. Their paintings will be on display at Spencer's art gallery, June 11-15.

"One could have devoted months," wrote Dr. Jackson in "Canadian Art," "to sketching construction work along the road, or the endless vistas of country through thousands of miles of ever-changing scenery. Mile after mile of sharp-pointed peaks covered with snow form the background, while the road follows the long, swinging undulations of open-wooded country... sketches of spruce and poplars, grass land or burned-over country, land of little sticks. One of the most interesting sketching motives was the way the bulldozers had shoved the trees aside so that they all leaned away from the highway."

R. W. Mayhew will open the exhibit which is sponsored by the Vancouver Island Region of the Federation of Canadian Artists.

Esquimalt Court

Pte. Mervin R. Hurley, R.C.A. S.C., was fined $30 and prohibited from driving for one month when he pleaded guilty before Magistrate H. C. Hall in Esquimalt police court Monday to a charge of dangerous driving. Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe said Hurley, driving north on Esquimalt Road, had struck a rise in the road, skidded 131 feet, turned over, and finally come to rest facing in the opposite direction to which he had been traveling.

Dennis Houghton, merchant seaman, facing two charges of failing to obey orders, was remanded to today to give his Vancouver counsel, John Stanton, an opportunity to represent him.

John M. Simpson was fined $25 or five days' imprisonment when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident, and a further $5 or two days on a charge of failing to have a driver's license. Three other motorists were fined $15 each for exceeding the 30 mile per hour speed limit, and two $5 for failing to stop at a stop sign.

SAILING RAFTS AND TWO-HULLED BOATS CLASSED AS CATAMARANS

The word "catamaran" came to us from people who live in India and Ceylon. These people are known as Tamils, and they made up the name from two words meaning "lie" and "tree."

Today there are several forms of catamaran, but at the start this craft was made from tree trunks, or logs, which were tied together. For many years, natives of the Madras district in southern India have used catamarans to go to vessels anchored some distance from shore.

The Madras catamaran is composed of three long timbers lashed together so the middle one is low enough to serve as a keel. A man paddling this type of catamaran can ride the surf better than if he used a small boat of common design.

Other forms of catamaran are used off the coasts of China and New Guinea. The Chinese fasten bamboo poles together, and put up a tall sail. This raft-with-a-sail is called a "tek-pai" by the Chinese, and it has proved very seaworthy.

New Guinea catamarans are made with three or more logs which are held in place with rattan.

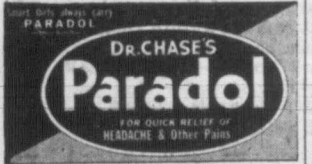

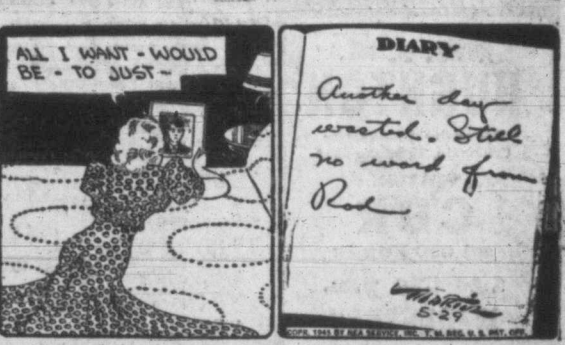

Down in South America we find rafts of the catamaran type. They are made of many logs or timbers which are fastened together. One of them may be as much as 20 feet wide and 70 feet long. Fitted with large sails, these rafts travel over ocean water near the coast of Peru.

Often classed as a catamaran is the two-hulled "proa." The proa has been used in both the Indian ocean and the Pacific for a long time. It is noted for its sailing speed, and for this reason has the special name of "flying proa."

In the area of the Marianas Islands a flying proa is likely to have a main hull 30 feet long and three feet wide. The second hull is smaller, and is used as an outrigger to make the craft steady.

In the United States a type of sailboat with two narrow hulls has been given the name of catamaran. The two hulls are joined by a light framework, and good speed can be made when the wind is right.

Two centuries ago, only one child in every four born in London lived to the age of 5. Nearly nine out of every 10 reach that age now.
